

Cirium[™] Workbooks for Asset Intelligence Accurately assess aircraft and fleet utilization with custom dashboards

A simple and cost-effective way to gain insight into your assets

CIRIUM WORKBOOKS

MROs, OEMs and lessors worldwide can easily access a collection of compelling visualizations powered by the world's most trusted source of flight tracking data. Monitor an entire fleet or individual aircraft to view movement, utilization and equipment type.

WHY THIS IS IMPORTANT TO YOU

- Understand what may have caused or led to problems with specific aircraft
- Summarize operational characteristics of a specific group of aircraft
- Stay ahead of scheduled maintenance periods
- Corroborate information being reported by airlines with a neutral, third-party data source
- Online access—reduce time and resources on IT and software installation

KEY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

- What is the location of a specific aircraft?
- How often did an aircraft fly?
- What was the airtime?
- · What are the block times and days of service?
- What are the hours and cycles?
- What is the equipment or engine type associated with the tail number?

DIFFERENTIATE YOUR SERVICE

Invoice more accurately for flight by flight hour contracts. Clearly articulate levels of part performance and value to your customers.

PROTECT YOUR

Monitor the location and usage of your aircraft or on which you have parts installed. Understand operational cycles and obtain a view to potential problems with specific aircraft or engines. Proactively present airlines customers with their true utilization numbers.

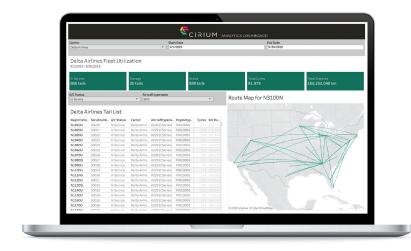

THINK STRATEGICALLY

Gain intelligence on how your competitors' aircraft are performing. Identify aircraft that are being underutilized or flying too much to proactively exchange aircraft based on usage.
